The "Indians" were on the rounds last evening again. At a late hour the residents of West Third street were suddenly awakened from their slumbers by a discord of hideous noises. It was only the "boys" charivariing Mr. and Mrs. George Dinger.

That "Heavenly" scallawag, R. W. Christian, colored, is now at Owensboro trying to fool people. Christian has been shown up so often by the press of Mayville, Louisville and Madison, Ind., that it is somewhat surprising he can find so many dupes. He is "out for the stuff," a deadbeat of the first water, and should be in the penitentiary instead of the pulp.

WELL! WELL! WELL!

THE MAYVILLE BOYS REALLY WON AGAIN YESTERDAY.

It Was a Long Time Coming, But It Was a Regular Rouser When It Did Come—Catcher Tenley Hurt.

Our citizens have subscribed liberally to aid the enterprise, and it is certainly due to them that they be furnished with the results of the game, especially when they are willing to pay the telegraphic tolls. Besides, no one here knew for a certainty that there was to be a game Thursday, else there would have been arrangements for the news independent of the Managers.

But, boys, go in and win today's game and you'll be right in the swim again.

SHORT STOPS.

One thousand people saw the "Injuns" routed at all points.

Twenty-six hits, and some "croakers" told us the boys couldn't hit McDonald.

The Vanceburg nine has played three games with the West Union club and lost two.

Next week we will have the pleasure of witnessing some ball-playing on our own grounds.

Just notice that score again, and then tell us the Locals can't play ball or that they were outclassed.

Some of Portsmouth's baseball players were not up to the required standard and were refused to surrender their suits.

We don't care if the boys lose today's game, we will still lay claim to having the best all round amateur team ever organized.

Portsmouth has disclaimed entirely the patched up team that went up to Waverly the other day and was defeated by a score of 30 to 0.

Manager Watson telegraphed from Knoxville at noon yesterday changing the dates of the games with Covington to August 1st and 2d.

That left-field fence was what caught VanWinkle and McGinn's slugger eyes in yesterday's game, and they rolled over two with the bases full.

Now, boys, poke the horseshoe over the left-field fence today, and when you come home you will have the pleasure of walking behind two fides and drums playing "Sweet Marie."

Captain McGinn, together with the rest of the lads, arose early yesterday and put on their batting clothes, and then, with blood in their eyes, they went for those "Indians" in earnest.

The LEADER's suggestion was a good one—"put Reiman and Tenley in the points and show those 'Indians' how to play ball;" and that's just what Captain McGinn did, and the score tells the plenty that the bat battery did to 'em.

The Colonels will not get August 1st. They can wait, however, until later in the season, and maybe by that time they will have a nine that can play a little better than the present one—one that will give our boys a run for their money.

We would like to see "Indians," Grim and Flournoy, knock the ball over the left field fence here for a home run. It would be a sure enough home run. They might pound the hide for a century, and all the satisfaction they would have would be to see how gracefully Cox would wipe them in where he has room to move.

Bill Hasamer of the Washingtons has been talking at the Capital, trying to tell the people there how their pets got dumped by two "Jay" clubs, and this is what he says: "About the games at Mayville and Terre Haute, I ain't sayin' a word. I ain't the right one to roar. It makes a speckled record; speckled as a turkey egg, though it's the Washingtons' fault. They get funny and supercilious when they're belligerent to against a Jay club. They think it's a pushover. The first thing they know they're up against it, and the Javs give it to 'em where the baby wears the beads. But Mayville and Terre Haute are painful subjects, and hurt me worse than my knee, so I won't just give 'em a base on balls and let it go at that."

"MAN'S BEST FRIEND."

Another Example of a Dog's Devotion Into Death.

A special from Portsmouth gives particulars of an occurrence at Springfield, the little Kentucky town opposite that city.

A small spitz dog belonging to Rev. Henry Rhodes proved himself a true hero and died a hero's death.

Mrs. Rhodes and two children were picking huckleberries on the hillside, when the mother was horrified by the sight of a snake.

The little girl, who was unconscious of her danger.

The mother was paralyzed with fright, but the little dog sprang at the snake, and, after a severe fight, succeeded in killing the reptile.

But the four-footed hero gave up its own life in the fight.

It was bitten twenty times by the snake and died in five minutes.

And yet there are two-footed brutes who will mistreat dogs.

Mr. J. F. Fitzhugh is able to be out after a severe spell of illness.

DYING WORDS.

LAST UTTERANCES OF ROYAL PERSONAGES ON SCAFFOLD, BED AND BATTLEFIELD.

Philadelphia Press.

"An Emperor should die standing upright," exclaimed Vespasian, and expired in the arms of the attendants who attempted to raise him, while "These are the works of mortal man," was repeated in his last moments by Marcus Aurelius Antoninus.

Fighting on the Bosworth field, Richard III. called out: "I am the King of England; I will not budge a foot" and falling, overwhelmed by numbers, cried "Treason! Treason! The gentle boy, Edward VI., exclaimed at the end: "I faint, Lord; have mercy on me! Receive my soul!" Bowing her head on the grim block in Potheringy Castle, Mary, Queen of Scots, said simply: "Into Thy hands, O, Lord, I commend my spirit." Charles I., when before a similar axe, said to the executioner: "When I put out my hands this way, then—" and imagining that the man was about to strike, he exclaimed: "Wait for the sign."

This was after the historic "Remember," addressed to Richard Jones. When the last night came for Oliver Cromwell, he repeated several times: "God is good!" and when those by him tried to persuade him to drink and sleep, he replied: "I do not desire to drink or to sleep, but my desire is to make what haste I can to be gone."

"It seems almost a coincidence that the last utterances of Charles II. were an apology to his attendants that he was long dying and hoping that the trouble he was causing would soon be over. William of Orange asked: "Can this last long?" but his last word was the name of an old friend. The last hours of Anne were clouded in delirium, but his speech left behind the called out repeatedly: "Oh, my brother! My dear brother! What will become of you?"

Waiting to Osnaburg, George I. was seized with apoplexy, and repeatedly called out the name of his destination, but expired before reaching there. To a companion by his bedside George IV. called out: "My boy, this is death," and ten years later his brother, William IV., in taking leave of the Archbishop, said: "Believe me, I am a religious man."

Of the Kings and Queens of France, perhaps none have left a worse memory than Charles IX., in consequence of the infamous massacre of St. Bartholomew. He, on his deathbed, was attended by a Huguenot nurse, to whom he is said to have exclaimed: "Ah, my nurse, my dear nurse, how much blood and how many murders! Ah, what wicked counsel I have had! Oh, my God, pardon me, and have mercy upon me, if it please thee! I know not where I am, so perplexed and agitated do they make me. What! become all this? What! What will become of me? What shall I do? I am lost; I feel it well."

When the dagger gave Henry III. his fatal wounds he cried: "Ah, the wicked Monk, he has killed me; kill him!" Some hours later he uttered the "Miserere."

When Henry IV. also fell before an assassin's knife he had only time to exclaim: "I am wounded! It is nothing!" before his life left him. In his last moments Henry VIII. said: "There must be some thoughts that torment me."

The Grand Monarque, Louis XIV., repeated several times before the power of speech left him: "Nunc et in hora mortis" ("And now is the hour of death"). His last words were: "Oh, my God, come to my aid; hasten to help me!"

Standing on the scaffold before the guillotine Louis XVI. declared: "I die innocent of all the crimes imputed to me! I forgive the authors of my death, and I pray that the blood they are going to shed may never fall on France!"

Mounting the same bloody platform so shortly after the gentle, brave Marie Antoinette happened to step accidentally on her executioner's foot, and said: "I beg your pardon, Monsieur, of ten to ten on purpose. They are equally unfortunate, the Dauphin, dying in his fifty prison, called a jailer and said: "I have something to tell you," but he died before he could speak whatever he wished to communicate.

As Napoleon lay dying on the lonely rock of St. Helena he muttered in his last breath: "Head of the army!" and just at the time, when dying, asked to exile the Third Napoleon asked his doctor: "Were you not the Sultan?" Philip III. of Spain on his deathbed cried: "What an account I shall have to give to God! Oh, why did I ever reign? Ah, if it pleased the Lord to prolong my life how I should like to live otherwise than I have hitherto lived!"

William, the Silent, the founder of the Dutch Republic, exclaimed, when struck by the assassin's bullet: "Oh, my God, have mercy upon my soul; have mercy upon this poor people!" Nicholas I. of Russia, before his death, died and telegrams to be sent to different cities with the wording: "The Emperor is dying!" and Maria Theresa of Austria was at almost the last moment asked if she was not lying uncomfortably, and answered: "Yes, but not enough to die, and in a very few moments expired. Just before his end Frederick the Great murmured: "We are over the hill; we shall go better now!" and Queen Louisa of Prussia (the mother of the first Napoleon) presented him her last illness: "I am a Queen, but I have not power to move my arms," and in the minute before her death exclaimed: "Lord Jesus, make it short!" The last words of her son, William, the victor of 1870, are said to have been: "I have no time now to be tired."

THE ADVERTISING COLUMNS OF THE LEADER SPEAK FOR THEMSELVES.

They show that people who know how to advertise know also WHERE to advertise.

Always insure in the old reliable, time-tried and fire-tested Phoenix Insurance Company of Hartford, Conn. Losses speedily adjusted and promptly paid.

W. N. Howe, Agent, Office, No. 37 West Third Street, Mayville, Ky.

The Mayville Steam Laundry has always been in the front rank, and by its change in management is only intended a public bid for increase of business by reason of additional improvements. The LEADER knows from a personal acquaintance with both members of the firm, Ball & Cox, that everything will be done with promptness and care. Their Dry Department will be an innovation, something surprising to those who have work to be done in this line.

THE C. and O. Will Soon Overhaul the Cincinnati Division.

The work of removing the light-weight rails on the Cincinnati Division of the C. and O. will soon begin.

Down in the mountains, on the Eastern Division, 100-pound rails are taking the place of the light ones.

These 100 pound rails are made necessary by the heavy tonnage carried over the road and the topography of the country.

The new rails which are to be laid on the Cincinnati Division are 75 pounds in weight, and it is said they will answer the purpose of the 100 pound rails on the Eastern Division, because the Western Division of the road is very solid and has few curves between Cincinnati and Huntington. In fact the curves do not run much over three degrees.

The new rails will enable the C. and O. "Flyers" leaving Cincinnati to reach Huntington in 3 hours and 15 minutes. The distance is 183 miles, and is now made in about 4 hours and 19 minutes. The shortening of the time approximately an hour is an important thing in the road's favor.

The present rails were laid under the management of Solley P. Huntington, who he and his friends were the financial powers behind the road.

THE LEGISLATIVE RACE.

Status of Matters in the Mason and Lewis District.

The correspondent of The Courier-Journal has this to say of the Legislative and Senatorial outlook in this field:

"MAYSVILLE, Ky., July 26th.

"The Legislative race in this Senatorial and Representative District has not yet assumed any definite form. So far there have been no announced candidates for either office from either party. No call for a primary or convention has yet been issued by any party. Both Democrats and Republicans in Mason county are with considerable anxiety advocates of sound money."

"This Senatorial District is composed of Mason and Lewis counties, and the Democratic nomination for State Senator by the usual rule of rotation falls to Lewis county this year to name the nominee. R. D. Wilson, an attorney of Vanceburg, and W. H. Thomas, a merchant of Burlington, have been suggested for George Harrison of Mayville to name the nominee it selected Charles B. Poyntz of Mayville, and when Governor Brown elevated him to the position of Railroad Commissioner Lewis county nominated for State Senator on a free turnpike platform. Mr. Davis, through the columns of his paper, THE DAILY PUBLIC LEADER, has been nobly championing the free turnpike cause, and was probably one of the first to agitate the question. No one in either party seems to be the issue in the race. Both are sound money men. W. H. Robb of Mayfield, a prominent farmer, has of late been suggested as a suitable person to nominate for Representative, and would be a good man. No one has so far been proposed for the Republican nomination."

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a running ear and the tube is not closed and the air cannot get in and the ear is not restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give one Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness caused by catarrh that cannot be cured by the Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

KENTUCKY REPUBLICAN PLATFORM.

We are opposed to the free and unlimited export of silver, believing that it would injure the country in financial ruin. We believe in a sound currency and in the use of both gold and silver for currency, provided always that a dollar in one is made precisely as valuable as a dollar in the other.

We favor a tariff so regulated as to protect the interests of all classes of our citizens upon articles that may be successfully manufactured or produced in this country, thus insuring good wages to the laborer and a home market to the producer; and in connection with this we favor the re-establishment of the doctrine of reciprocity. We believe that such a system will defray every Government expense, gradually liquidate all the indebtedness, restore public confidence and relieve the war the nation is now suffering from.

We favor an American policy which will protect American and American interests in any part of the world at all hazards and will sympathize with struggling Republics rather than ignorant monarchies.

Uncle Sam's Shortage.

The deficit in the National Treasury for the first 25 days of the present fiscal year is $12,383,291 46.

BRADSTREET'S

Weekly Report About the Business of the Country.

Trade in Almost All Lines of Industry Fairly Active.

Central Western Cities Report the Fall Volume of Business Business. There are Excellent Crop Prospects in Nebraska—Southern Trade Good.

NEW YORK, July 27.—Bradstreet's Saturday says:

The most striking features of the business week are the influence of improved crop conditions and the continued large demands for iron and steel, with one of the largest demands in the market for Bessemer pig. Most of the commercial and industrial features of the preceding week are retained. The volume of trade has not varied materially, but in instances is larger than at a corresponding period last year. Trade in almost all lines is fairly active, for a season and the general tendency of mercantile conditions is toward greater ease. Commercial travelers are being sent out in all leading lines and reports from these now on the road appear to meet expectations.

The price record this week is rather more pronounced in showing the strength of the upward tendency than last week or the week before. Among the most important staples laid alone is reported lower.

The strength of the wheat market, based on the reports of damage to the spring wheat, together with the falling off of receipts at primary markets, is followed by a drop in the quantity of wheat exported this week, which total (four included as wheat) amounted to 1,250,000 bushels from both coasts of the United States and from Montreal, compared with 1,632,000 bushels last week.

Central western cities, among them Cleveland, Detroit, Cincinnati and Louisville report the usual volume of mid-summer business, with perhaps more activity relatively at Louisville, where the question of suspending the production of whisky is discussed.

Fair orders are being received by jobbers and merchants at both Chicago and St. Louis, but no pronounced revival in the demand for fall delivery is expected there until after August 1, country merchants preferring to await corn crop prospects at that time before giving out orders. A fair business is reported from Kansas City, although needed rains throughout Kansas will improve the demand in the near future. Excellent crop prospects in Nebraska have shown more activity at Omaha in railroad lines. The feature of the week at the south is in rather more satisfactory report from Memphis, Chattanooga, Augusta and Galveston, where orders have been received in some instances in excess of expectations and the volume of business is larger than at the corresponding period last year. At such points as Charleston, Savannah and New Orleans no material change is reported as compared with a week ago and the like is true at Birmingham.

A Minister Tarred and Feathered. LEAVENWORTH, Kan., July 27.—T. S. Rooks, the district minister in Leavenworth, the seat of Pottawatomie county, was tarred and feathered Thursday night by four masked men who came to his house in a carriage and took him to the woods accompanied by his wife, who insisted on going. The white-caps accuse him of assaulting a girl and say he will be shot if he returns to the county. Threats are made of lynching on both sides. Mrs. Rooks says she knows the men and will get warrants for them.

Denies the Report. PHILADELPHIA, July 27.—District Attorney Graham Friday afternoon said that the report which was published in a morning paper stating that he had decided to have Holmes tried in this city for the murder of Peitzel was entirely false. Mr. Graham stated that it would be three or four weeks before it would be definitely settled where Holmes would be tried.

Italian Counterfeiters Arrested. CHICAGO, July 27.—Four Italians, two men and two women, were arrested Friday at the Leveaux on charges of counterfeiting. One of the women is known to have forfeited her bonds in New York some years ago for the same offense. It is said that they succeeded in passing a number of bad dollars here.

Sisters of the Holy Cross. ST. MARY'S, Ind., July 27.—The annual meeting of the Grand Chapter Order Sisters of the Holy Cross was held here. The present superior was elected mother superior of the order in the United States. Utah was honored with the position of mother superior of St. Mary's.

Murder Trial Values Higher. MUNCIE, Ind., July 27.—The assessors' reports for Delaware county show the total valuations to be $17,767,340, a gain of $1,113,328. There is a decrease of $3.85 per acre on farm land. The increase comes principally from the city of Muncie.

C. E. Lincoln Visits Indiana. INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 26.—J. R. Lincoln, who was arrested here Tuesday night for the brutal murder of three-year-old Ida Gehard, is now violently insane in the Marion County Workhouse.

A Pioneer Dead. CHARLESTON, W. Va., July 27.—Venerable James Griffith, aged 76 years, of this place, died of debilities of old age. He was a pioneer resident, and one of the most prominent men in Clark county.

The New House of Commons. LONDON, July 27.—With all the constituents save two, heard from the new house will consist of 603 members. 29 liberal-conservatives, 164 liberals, 45 anti-Parnellites and 19 Parnellites.

AGAINST TEN STATES.

Kentucky Board of Health Announces a Cattle Quarantine. LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 27.—A proclamation issued by the state board of health, quarantining the state of Kentucky against cattle from the states of Virginia, North and South Carolina, Mississippi, Indian Territory, Alabama, Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas and Pennsylvania has been made public. This action was made necessary on account of Texas fever being introduced into this state recently from the south, a number of cattle having died from the disease. The proclamation is to be effective during nine months of the year, the months excepted being December, January and February. State Veterinary Surgeon F. T. Egan, of this city, has been authorized to investigate all cases now affected, and to take such action as he deems necessary to eradicate the disease from the state.

The Doctor Loves Kentucky. FRANKFORT, Ky., July 27.—When asked Friday afternoon why he had voluntarily returned to Kentucky, Dr. Wm. Did U?
Did you ever think that relatives or friends who have moved to distant places—gone West, perhaps, to grow up with the country—are always glad to hear from their "Old Kentucky Home"? And did it ever occur to you that single copy of THE MAYSVILLE REPUBLICAN—the weekly edition of The Public Ledger—contains more home news than you could embrace in a hundred ordinary letters? And if it ever occurs to you that you can send the paper to your relatives and friends for a whole year at less cost than you can write a letter a week? Besides, don't you think a year's subscription TO THE REPUBLICAN would be a present highly appreciated by those at a distance? Suppose you try it and hear what they have to say on the subject.

BIG PROFITS

Small Investments.

Returning prosperity will make many rich, but nowhere can they make so much money in a short time as by successful speculation in Grain, Provisions and Stocks.

$10.00 FOR EACH DOLLAR INVESTED can be made by our

originated by us. All successful operations operate on a regular system.

It is a well-known fact that there are thousands of men in all parts of the United States who are speculating in grain, provisions and stocks, and making large amounts of money every year, ranging from $10,000 to $100,000 or more by the use of a few hundred dollars.

It is also a fact that those who make the largest profits from comparatively small investments on this plan are persons who live away from Chicago and invest through brokers who thoroughly understand systematic trading.

Our plan does not risk the whole amount invested on any trade, but covers both sides, so that whether the market rises or falls it brings a steady profit that rises up continuously in the short time.

LETTERS FOR CORRECTING PROOFS, also our Manual on successful speculation, and our Daily Market Report full of money-making pointers. ALL FREE. Our Manual explains margin trading fully. Highest references in our standing. See our Manual.
